To the Man Who is Not Now An Advertiser

If you keep all your goods in boxes on shelves or under the counters, and never make a window display, you will not be a howling success in your line of business.

And if on the other hand you display these goods merely to your regular patrons and to the casual passerby you won't leave much dust in the wake of your business career—in fact your passing will be scarcely noticed.

But if you advertise—if through a good newspaper you extend your invitations to the thousands who do not regularly patronize you, or pass your store—and in your advertisements carry your store's individuality and keep on advertising persistently, you will surely make your store's presence felt and will soon be turning your stock three and four times where it turns but once now.

The Star-Bulletin asks an opportunity to canvass the matter with you at your convenience. It offers you the service of expert advertising men and the co-operation of its entire business organization in making this advertising productive of results—satisfactory to you and your patrons.
